

Debbie Goetz is the founder and president of Debbie Goetz Media Connections, LLC, established in 2010. Debbie has a Masters Degree in Finance and Business Administration from Temple University and over 30 years of business experience in New York City, Bucks and Montgomery Counties, and Philadelphia. Debbie's interpersonal skills and her ability to connect with both media people and clients are an important part of her work. Her strengths in public relations, interpersonal communications, and research enable her to assist clients with varied public relations and media relations projects, both large and small. Debbie is the consummate networker and business professional, bringing her connections to both clients and to colleagues. Debbie Goetz has brought her expertise to a wide variety of businesses across many different industries, as well as to nonprofit organizations and professionals in the Philadelphia region and across the country. Her firm proudly supports non-profit organizations including Big Brothers Big Sisters of Bucks County, The Ted Lindeman Outreach Foundation, The Lewy Body Dementia Association, Rotary International, Central Bucks Chamber of Commerce and many others.