

Speaker Bios:

Debra Denison Cantor: Deb practices in all areas of family law and offers all process options including litigation, collaborative law and mediation. Deb is an experienced advocate in all family law matters. Deb also focuses her practice on the preparation of pre-nuptial agreements. She is a frequent lecturer on family law topics across the state. Deb has been active in the collaborative law movement in Pennsylvania since its inception and has held multiple leadership positions both locally and statewide. Deb believes that families deserve experienced representation and the right to select how their family will transition into the next phase of their lives. Not only should clients select their family law attorney, but also the process that is best suited for their situation.

Adam R. Long: Adam practices in the Labor and Employment Law Practice Group. Adam represents employers in single plaintiff and class-based employment litigation matters and before various governmental agencies, including the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, the Pennsylvania Human Relations Commission, and the National Labor Relations Board. He also represents employers with union-represented workforces in collective bargaining negotiations and grievance arbitrations. Adam regularly provides advice and counseling to employers on a wide range of labor and employment law issues, including wage and hour compliance, employment discrimination, family and medical leave, labor relations, and non-competition agreements.
